A trip I will never forget

My family and I visited Uncle Tom who lives in England.

We went there by plane. We almost missed our flight but luckily we were on time.

The culture there is very beautiful. We went to Uncle Tom's house. His house was very cozy and big. He even has a backyard. I was jealous of him about how big his house was.

The next day, we went to see London Eye. It was crowded but I still took photos of it.

For the last day that we were in England, Uncle Tom cooked us some chips and fish. They were delicious.

I was kind of sad that we only had a week to spend with Uncle Tom. I hope I can meet him next time.

A trip I will never forget

Three years ago, my parents gave me a big surprise on my birthday. They booked a hotel in Japan. We spent three days in this trip. That was the first time I go to Japan. It took five hours to Japan by plane.

We went to W hotel by MTR at two o'clock in the afternoon. There were lots of people at the lobby. Many people were talking with their friends. IT was noisy. We stayed on the tenth floor and stored our luggage there. We were very hungry so we had dinner at the hotel restaurant. The food tasted very nice. This time, a waiter gave me chocolate. I was very glad.

On the next day, we went to Japan Bridge. The birdge is so big but it was crowded. I could see a lot of people walking around. There were a lot of shops. Since there were too many people around, I got lost with my parents. I felt sad so I cried. I stayed at the same place where I got lost. My parents found me after thirty minutes. It was lucky.

My family and I had a great time at Japan because the food was tasty. The people I met in Japan were nice. I want to go Japan again.
