

Being sick at the cinema

Chan Hoi Yin, Charlie (5D)

This afternoon, my mother and I went to the cinema. We watched a film called "Super Joe". We saw the poster of the film at the cinema. Since it was my favourite cartoon, I felt joyful.

At the ticket booth, we saw a long queue. Many people were buying tickets because it was a popular film. Then we went to the snack bar and bought a tub of popcorn and some drinks. We loved eating popcorn.

After a while, we went inside the theatre to watch the film while enjoying the popcorn and drinks. Suddenly, I felt a great pain in my stomach. I ate too much popcorn, and that made me painful. I rushed to the toilet, and very soon I felt much better. However, I missed the ending of the film because of that. I felt disappointed.

From now on, I will never eat too much popcorn!
