

Too Much Homework

(6B Sam To)

Yesterday was Sunday. Calvin was alone at home. His mother and father went shopping. He was as busy as a bee and he felt bored because he had a lot of homework to do. He thought, "It is so boring! Maybe I can"

Calvin played computer games for three hours. The games were exciting and he felt happy. Suddenly, the computer broke down. Some smoke came out from the computer. He felt scared. He thought, "Oh, my god! Mum and dad will be very angry!"

Finally, Mum came back. She saw the computer break down, so she turned off the computer and said, "You forgot to do homework and played computer games for a long time! I will not give you money to buy a new computer!" After this incident, Calvin swore that he will never play computer games for a long time.