

Water Leakage

By Wong Hoi Ching, Hailey (6A)

Yesterday was Mother's Day. Mum and I was at home in the morning. After breakfast, my mum went out to do some shopping. Before she left, she had told me to do the housework. Then I started to wash the dishes. When I was washing the dishes, the telephone rang. I went to the living room to answer the call. I talked with my classmate for an hour. I also turned on the TV and took out some snacks to eat while chatting on the phone. I was very pleased so I forgot to turn off the water tap.

After I talked with my classmate, I felt so tired that I fell asleep on the sofa. After some time, I heard some sound from the kitchen and woke up. When I looked up, I saw so much water flowing out of the kitchen. I was very shocked and scared. Next, I turned off the water tap immediately and got some towels and buckets to dry the kitchen floor. At that moment, my mum came back. When she saw what happened, she was very annoyed. After she wiped the floor, she scolded me angrily. From this incident, I have learned to be careful when I do anything.
