

What did you do last week?

I am a helpful boy. I like helping people.

Last Monday, I helped my mum sweep the floor because she was so tired. She fell asleep on the sofa. I felt delighted because I could help.

Last Wednesday, I helped my class teacher to clean the blackboard. Miss Wan was happy and I felt great too. She gave me some candies as a gift.

Last Friday, I went to school by MTR. I saw an old lady carrying a lot of things, so I offered my seat to her. The old lady was touched because nobody had offered a seat to her before. I felt cheerful after helping her.

Last Sunday, I helped Amy with her homework. She felt happy because she could hand in her homework on time. She felt grateful for my help. I felt happy too. I think helping people is so meaningful.
