

What did you do last week?

I am a helpful boy. I like to help people. Last Monday, I helped my mum to sweep the floor after breakfast. It was because mum was sick. I felt delighted that I could help her with the housework.

Last Wednesday, I helped my teacher to clean the blackboard at school. It was because I was on duty on that day. I felt great.

Last Friday, I helped an old woman on the MTR train. The woman was old and weak so I offered her my seat. I felt cheerful.

I think helping people is meaningful.
